Year 12: Geography Residential to Cranedale

By Freddie Charlesworth and Eleanor Hunt: Geography Ambassadors

The Cranedale trip is organised annually to give AS Geography students the chance to familiarise with key physical geography data collection methods ahead of NEA coursework later in the year. The trip lasted two days with one night being spent away at the centre as a group of forty-two students and three A-level teachers from IGS.

The first day was centred inland and considered the effect of afforestation on soil moisture uptake as well as other factors such as soil carbon content. This involved making a direct comparison between an afforested and deforested drainage basin in Dalby Forest; we completed sampling for one site and compared to a known data set. A level field work is much more focused on quantitative measurements as well as justification and analysis of the choice in technique, this is when compared to physical investigation at GCSE. We used new methods to collect data, such as using a hydro prop to calculate the velocity of water passing downstream and quantitative chemical testing to measure water carbon contents. Fortunately, the weather was in our favour and made the outdoor section of the course much easier than being stood in torrential rain. We progressed to consider the analysis of soil, which involved some unconventional yet effective methodology to measure percolation rate. Data collection techniques proved varied, in some cases using sophisticated equipment whilst also using simplistic techniques to complement and give a comprehensive set of data to verify our hypothesis.

Despite feeling tired, the work continued after dinner with a two hour session covering statistical testing methods. Statistics play an important role in answering a fundamental question when trying to prove a statement: 'coincidence or truth.' Methods such as the chi-squared test for proofing ensure that conclusions are genuine. After work was completed we retired to use the facilities at the centre, this included: a bar, table tennis, cards and just a nice environment to unwind in ahead of the next day on the Holderness coastline.

On Friday 7th April we went to Selwicks Bay on the Holderness Coast. It was nice to see the bay that we have seen so many times in textbooks and on PowerPoints in real life. Here we spent the morning measuring the angle of the beach using a SILVA Clinometer at different distances and then calculated the overall beach angle. We also measured sediment size at intervals to establish the dominant sediment size of this bay. These are fieldwork methods that could be used on our NEA's in Year 13. But, on the wave cut platform (a typical landform of erosion) it was fairly cold and windy so to get warm and keep clear of the incoming tide we ate our lunch in the van and headed back to the Cranedale Centre. In the classroom we were able to use some of the statistical tests we had learnt the day before and construct a beach profile diagram of Selwicks Bay. Once we had finished this it was time to head home, it was a quiet coach trip back with many tired year 12's.

Youth Speaks Debating Contest

By Mr SD Urwin: Computing and ICT; Progress & Experience Leader Year 7

Thomas, Emily and Eve of Ilkley GS asked "Should the traditional idea of homework be banned?"

The best intermediate team -from Ilkley GS- comprised Maiya, Poppy and Charlie who posed the question "Should violently graphic video games be banned?" Charlie was also voted best individual speaker.

Three Craven schools entered eight teams in the annual Youth Speaks debating contest organised by the Rotary Club of Skipton, which took place at Ermysted's Grammar School.

Teams comprised a Chairperson, a Proposer and an Opposer, who had to make their pitch in 15 minutes before a panel of three judges, headed by Elaine Davies from the Craven Speaker's Club. A Questioner asked one question but there were many from the floor.

The subjects, chosen by the competitors at Senior level were:

Giggleswick: 'Language endangerment. What are it's causes and how can we stop it?
Chairperson Alex Wood, Proposer Joshua Kirkhope-Arkley and Opposer Joseph Ladds.

Ermysted's 1st team: "It is better to plant a cabbage than a rose"
Chairperson Torin Zieboll, Proposer Thomas Shaw and Opposer Chris Faulkner.

Ermysted's 2nd team: "Should Britain pay reparations to former colonies?"
Chairperson Robert Plunkett, Proposer Benedict Curtis and Opposer Niall Fitzgibbon

Ermysted's 3rd team: "Should cosmetic surgery be banned?"
Chairperson Abhay Nambiar Proposer Hassan Aziz and Opposer Sam Eaglesham

Ilkley 1st team: "Veganism is the only valid approach to tackling climate change"
Chairperson Joseph Leach, Proposer Emily Wallace, Opposer Callum Edwards

Ilkley 2nd team: "Should the traditional idea of homework be banned?"
Chairperson Emily Batchelor, Proposer Thomas Abel, Opposer Eve Dyson

The subjects, chosen by the competitors at the Intermediate level were:

Ilkley A: "Smoking should be made illegal"
Chairperson: Orla Jeffries, Proposer Matthew Disney, Opposer Caitlin Robson

Ilkley B: "Should violently graphic video games be banned?"
Chairperson Poppy Dyson, Proposer Maiya Gowon, Opposer Charlie Collinge

Judge's comments have been passed on to the schools as there were so many questions which meant that time ran over. They felt that there were good quality presentations with a lot of information provided that showed a high level of research and knowledge of the varying topics.

The winning senior team was Ermysted's team 3, and the best intermediate team was Ilkley B.

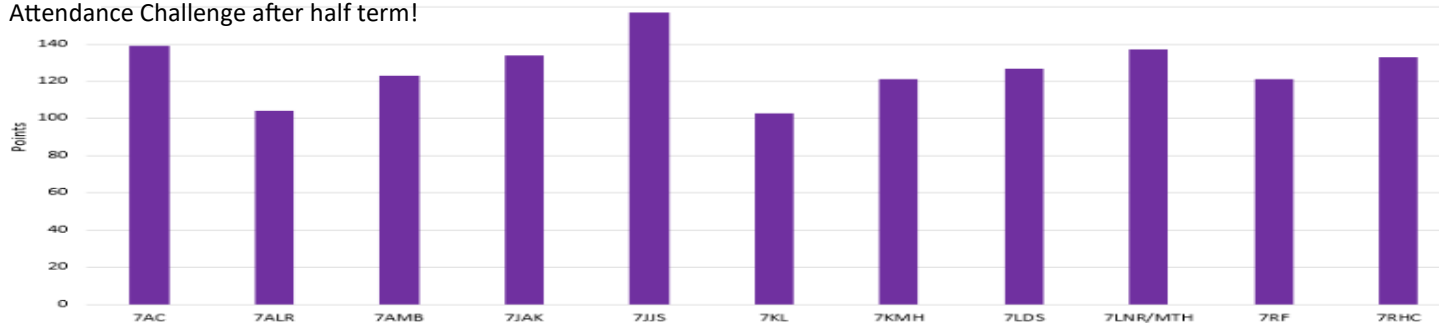

The best individual Speakers were Thomas Shaw of Ermysted's and Charlie Collinge of Ilkley.

It is hoped the winning teams will decide to advance to the next stage, under a slightly different format, at Leeds Trinity University, Brownberrie Lane, Horsforth LS18 5HD on March 28 at 13:00.

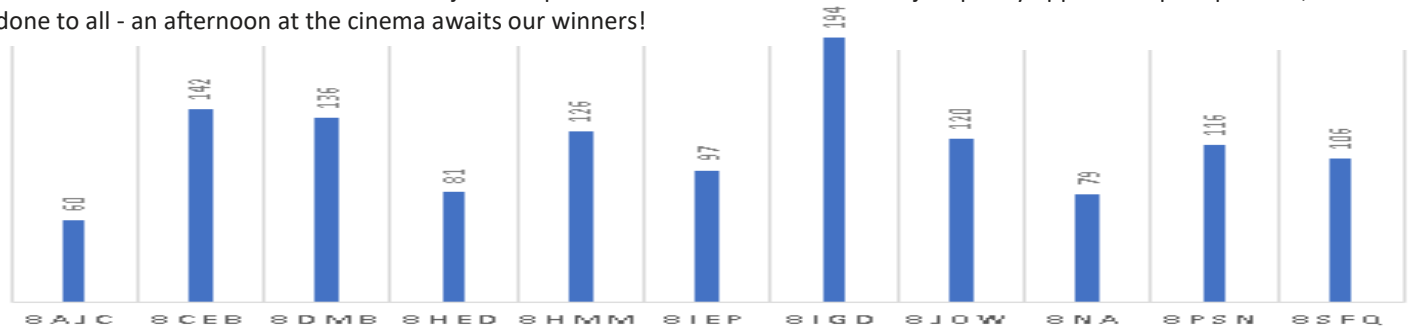

Super Tutor Group Update

By the Progress and Experience Leaders

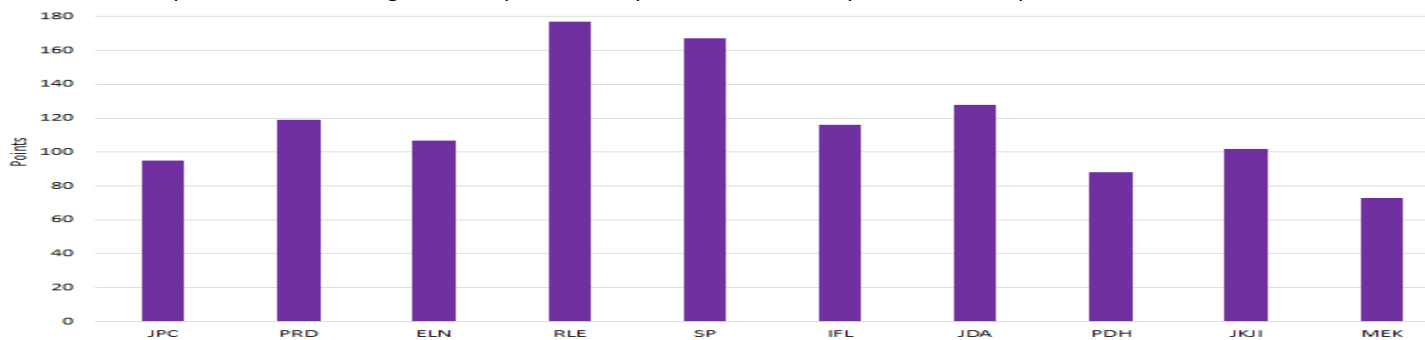

It has been an outstanding first half term for our new Red Ties. The battle to win the Super Tutor Prize of a form group Laser Zone experience has been tightly fought, but over the last half term 7JJS's consistency with attendance and behaviour has given them an 18 point lead over their nearest rivals 7AC. There is still plenty to play for, with extra Super Tutor points available in our Attendance Challenge after half term!

The current Super Tutor Group standings show 8IGD in a commanding position with a number of forms giving chase! Points have been regularly awarded for attendance, class charts positives and occasional challenges. Upcoming additional super tutor points will be available from the Griffins Nest Project completed in form and the Revival Project penny appeal. Keep it up Year 8, well done to all - an afternoon at the cinema awaits our winners!

This year, the year 9s have an opportunity to go to Flamingo land on the 2nd July as a reward for being the top tutor group this year! All tutor groups compete against each other to try and score points individually and as part of a tutor group, from excellent attendance, to points won in a dodgeball competition. As you can see, it's very close at the top between RLE and SP.

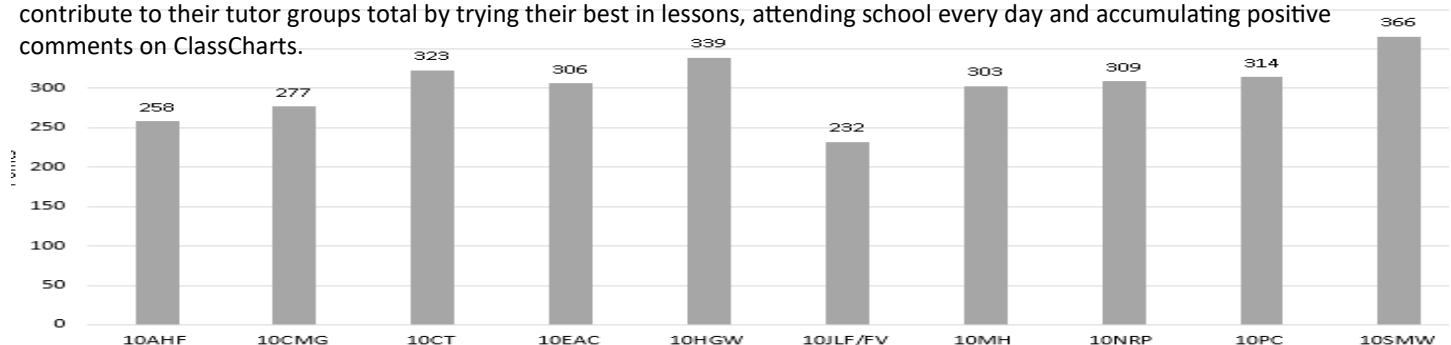

Before half term Year 10 pupils voted for the Super Tutor Group prize and the trip to Ilkley Cinema was the most popular choice. Every two week cycle the following criteria applies and is added to the running total:

Average number of positives in the tutor group over the cycle

At each tracking window the following criteria is used and added to the running total:

- Total number of Learning Behaviour 4 in each tutor group
- Total number of pupils with 100% attendance in each tutor group
- Total number of no homework concerns in each tutor group

The current standings are much closer than previous years and SMW have HGW hot on their heels. All pupils in Year 10 can contribute to their tutor groups total by trying their best in lessons, attending school every day and accumulating positive comments on ClassCharts.

Ilkley Sustainability Plan—2030 and beyond

Sent in by Maddie Morris, Robbie Matthews and Lana Melechi

Saturday 14th March 10.30 -12.30

Clarke Foley Centre

What can we do together in Ilkley to tackle the climate and ecological emergency?

What are your best hopes?

Let's have a conversation about how to move toward a sustainable, resilient future for Ilkley.

Climate change, wildlife decline and environmental breakdown are in the news almost every day. They are the most urgent and pressing issues of our time and yet, for most of us, they provide little focus to our lives. We can and should make our views known to our politicians and business leaders. But the scale and urgency of the problem are such that we cannot wait for these bodies to act; we must take it upon ourselves both to reduce the impact of our community on the environment and to make it more resilient to the changes ahead.

So let's have a conversation about how to move toward a sustainable future for Ilkley. As a community, we can help turn personal concerns about the Climate and Ecological Emergency into concrete, organised projects.

The Ilkley Sustainability Plan sets out ideas about how we could act together to move toward a more resilient, sustainable future. You can read it here. It is a first step in working together to build a sustainable Ilkley, and to play our part in influencing change on a national and global scale. In order to become an effective plan, it needs support and engagement with the wider community. The proposed developments require discussion, raising awareness, and agreeing on common goals.

Many of our voluntary organisations will be at this meeting, as well as councillors and business representatives. It will be arranged as a 'market stall' event. There will be a short introduction to the plan and then attendees will be able to choose which of the ten aspects of the plan they wish to consider in more detail and visit the relevant stalls.

We hope that residents, businesses, those who work and go to school here, and occasional visitors will take this opportunity to share aspirations, concerns and expectations so that we can develop a consensus around what we need to do to make a just transition to a resilient sustainable zero carbon future for our community.

World Book Day: Human Treasure Hunt

By Ms L Capstick: Acting Assistant Headteacher: Teaching & Learning

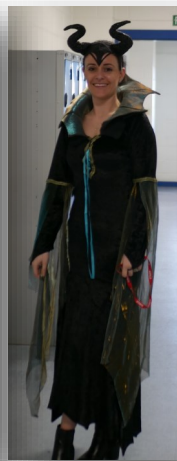

On the 5th March staff and students celebrated World Book Day in style! Over 50 staff dressed up as famous literary characters to promote the importance of reading for pleasure. Whilst some teams opted for a group theme such as fairytales or Little Men and Miss characters, others were rather more abstract and daring with their choices of costume! The pictures say it all!

Tutors kicked off the day by sharing with students the 'top 10 reasons to read' followed by a class reading of a short story. Every teacher then shared their favourite book with students at the beginning of each lesson sending a clear message that reading does not just happen in English lessons but is an important factor in securing success in all subjects.

Students also had the opportunity to take part in a human scavenger hunt at break and lunchtime. They had to find 12 teachers and correctly identify their character in order to win a prize. Well done to those students who succeeded!

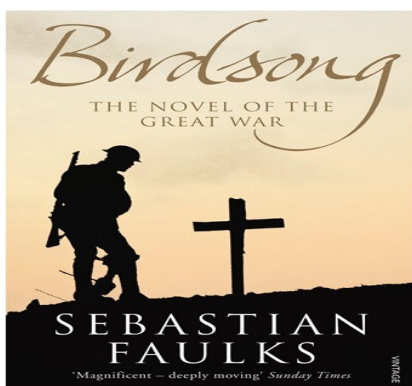

Top 10 reasons to read...

1. It improves your vocabulary
2. It improves your concentration and focus
3. It improves your memory
4. It improves your imagination
5. It is linked to improved academic achievement
6. It reduces stress and anxiety
7. It increases your ability to empathise with others
8. It improves your understanding of yourself
9. It encourages engagement with the community and adds to your cultural capital
10. It is entertaining!

Mrs Capstick's favourite book is...

A novel of overwhelming emotional power, Birdsong is a story of love, death, and survival.

Stephen Wraysford, a young Englishman, arrives in Amiens in northern France in 1910 to stay with the Azaire family, and falls in love with unhappily married Isabelle. But, with the world on the brink of war, the relationship falters, and Stephen volunteers to fight on the Western Front.

Years 8/9: Ski Trip to Pila, Italy

By Mr M Carr: PE; Progress and Experience Leader: Year 10; Student & Community Co-ordinator

Forty-one Year 9 pupils went to Pila, Italy, skiing over half term and had a fantastic time.

The trip departed a lunch time on Saturday and despite the best efforts of Storm Dennis we crossed the English Channel five hours later than planned with some choppy seas and eventually arrived in resort on Sunday afternoon. Once everyone was settled into their rooms the pupils experienced their first Italian meal of the week and we went out to collect ski equipment ready for the slopes the next day.

On Monday morning the excitement at breakfast was infectious and we soon headed up the mountain to meet the ski instructors. After a full day on the slopes an evening meal at a local pizzeria awaited the group to start the evening Apres Ski programme.

The ski groups showed great progress throughout the week and were quickly exploring the full resort. The beginner groups were confidently paralleling and the advanced groups were tackling the more challenging red and black runs including The Wall!

Other evening entertainment included bowling, ice skating, a walk around the town of Aosta, and a very lively D-I-S-C-O! On the final evening the ski instructors came to the hotel to award the groups with certificates and badges to celebrate a great week.

All pupils and staff returned safely to IGS and even brought some snow back with them for Ilkley to enjoy on Monday morning!

Event Management at The Craiglands Hotel

By Ms R Eyles: Technology; Ed-Tech Strategy Support

9C-Em1, 9E-Em1 and 9K-Em1 were treated to a guided tour of The Craigland's Hotel, Ilkley. Chris, the hotel manager, took each group around the various areas of the hotel sharing her fantastic knowledge of the hospitality and catering industry. Thank you Chris – an incredibly rewarding experience for our pupil's!

Max Gibson, Harriet Melia and Abigail Rutter, said:

"On Thursday the 27th February, our event management class went to the Craiglands Hotel and Spa to have a first-hand look into how the hospitality and catering world works. We were shown through the hotel by the general manager Chris, who explained to us the ins and outs of running a hotel as a business.

We also got to see their new Verbeia spa, named after the goddess of Ilkley, which boasts a wide range of services and treatments including massages, manicures, tanning and deep relaxation. This demonstrated to us the importance of customer satisfaction: one of the many aspects of hospitality.

This trip showed the wide variety that a hospitality qualification offers and definitely informed a lot of decisions about KS4 options!"

Junior World Cup Fencing success! Former IGS student Nathan Foster is now ranked 5th in the GB u20 rankings.

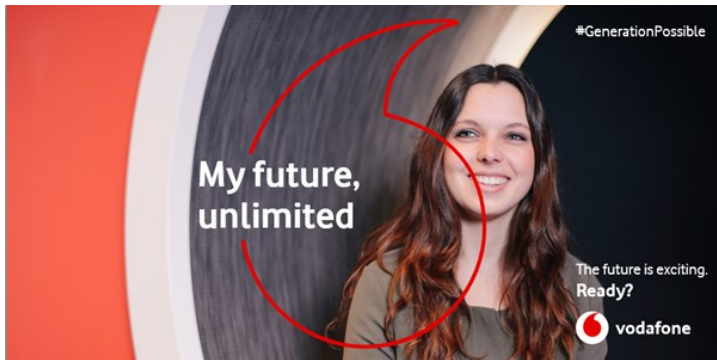

We are very proud to report that former IGS student Nathan Foster (IGS 2013-2019) recently participated in the Junior World Cup fencing competition in Basel, Switzerland.

Nathan won 3 lost 3 in his pool fights and at that stage was ranked 74/183 competitors. This meant he got through to the elimination round, and had to fence against the 55th ranked competitor, who he beat 15-14 in a very tense match. He then lost 10-15 to the 10th seed. This was his best performance in the junior world cups, and a fantastic end to the season.

Overall Nathan finished 58th in the Junior World Cup, the 3rd placed GB fencer in the competition, and he now lies 5th in the GB u20 rankings for épée, just missing out on a place in the world championships next month (he is the reserve). Nathan has been selected for the GB u20 squad this season for all 5 World Cup events.

Huge congratulations on this achievement Nathan. We wish you all the best for the future.

Careers at Sea is the national promotional body for the Merchant Navy, the collective name for the commercial shipping industry. Working in partnership with the shipping industry, under the instruction of the Merchant Navy Training Board, 'Careers at Sea' is the most up to date source of unbiased information about the range of fantastic careers available to people in the Merchant Navy.

Did you know that over 90% of goods are transported in and out of the UK by sea? That makes the shipping industry a vital part of our economy. Think of some of the things you rely on – food from all over the world, cars, clothes and technology. Ships of every shape and size are working to transport these essential goods wherever they are needed. But it's not just about the transportation of goods – what about the ferries and cruise ships taking passengers to and from various destinations globally? And what about the research that is carried out at sea on board specialist research vessels?

Careers at Sea is here to help!

Find out more on our page 'What is the Merchant Navy?'

So, who's going to drive these ships? And who is keeping those huge engine rooms running smoothly? And who do you think takes care of the daily running of these ships and who takes care of the people on board? Could that be you?

Choose your role and start your fully sponsored training...

- Could you see yourself navigating the ship as a Deck Officer?
- Have you ever thought about taking that engineering interest to the ships engine room as an Engineering or Electro-Technical Officer?
- Do you want to be part of the ship's crew, helping the vital day-to-day running of ships as a Rating?

Join us for a special sing-along concert featuring some of your favourite songs from well known animated films.

About this Event

This family friendly concert will be performed by a live band and singers. Featuring some of your favourite songs from animated films like "Let it Go" and "Circle of Life" this fun concert will get you singing at the top of your voice.

The first half of the show will be a slow run through of the songs with basic accompaniment, giving everyone a chance to warm their voices and practice. In the second half we'll perform all the songs together to a full accompaniment. We'll provide lyrics and musical direction - all you need is enthusiasm!

In the interval free squash and tea/coffee will be available, alongside a range of soft and alcoholic drinks that will be for sale at our bar. There will be a bake sale with all profits going to charity.

All funds raised from this concert will be donated directly to the Multiple Sclerosis Society. The MS Society is the largest charity supporting people with MS in the UK. Antony Butcher, a member of staff in the School of Music, will be setting off on a solo bike ride across America in May 2020 to raise money for the MS Society and awareness of mental health.
