A message from the Anti– Bullying group:

“The Anti-Bullying group work to promote tolerance and respect in the school, having initiated projects like The Kindness Awards, as well as making a short film, and producing a book called RESPECT, which is for sale on Parent Pay. The book is a collection of responses to questions about bullying from a series of public figures like Holly Smale, Alistair Campbell, and Simon Armitage, with a foreword from Michael Rosen. We are raising money to print more copies of RESPECT for the school by running the bake sale this evening.”
