

FICTION:

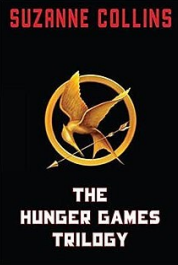

LOCKDOWN by Peter May

London. The city is in lockdown in a pandemic. Martial law is in place. The hospitals and emergency services are overwhelmed. Violence and civil disorder are simmering.

Animal Farm by George Orwell

All animals are equal but some are more equal than others. The book is an allegory of how power can lead to oppression and corruption. A great way to understand the principles of Marxism and Capitalism.

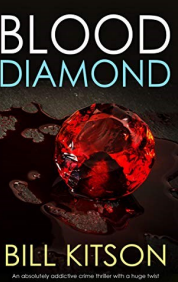

The Hunger Games Trilogy by Suzanna Collins

The Hunger Games universe is a dystopia set in Panem consisting of the wealthy Capitol and 13 districts in varying states of poverty. Every year, children from the first 12 districts are selected via lottery to participate in a compulsory death match.

The Handmaid's Tale by Margaret Atwood

An unforgettable portrait of defiance and authoritarian rule, The Handmaid's Tale is a classic dystopian vision of a terrifyingly believable future. A devastatingly powerful exploration of female oppression with an all-too chilling resonance for our times.

Blood Diamond by Bill Kitson

How do crimes committed long ago in London connect to the current wave of violence? As the body count rises, the detectives struggle to keep pace with those who would prefer the truth to remain dead and buried.

NON-FICTION

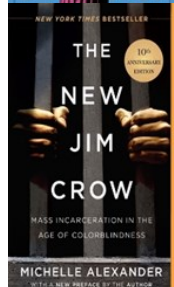

CHAVS by Owen Jones

Owen Jones explores how the working class has gone from 'salt of the earth' to 'scum of the earth.' Exposing the ignorance and prejudice at the heart of the chav caricature, he portrays a far more complex reality.

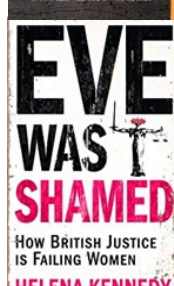

Natives by Akala

In this unique book Akala takes his own experiences and widens them out to look at the social, historical and political factors that have left us where we are today.

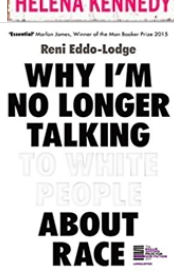

The New Jim Crow by Michelle Alexander

In a bold and innovative argument, a rising legal star shows readers how the mass incarceration of a disproportionate number of black men amounts to a devastating system of racial control.

EVE WAS SHAMED by Helena Kennedy

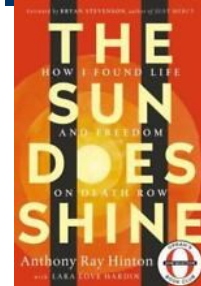

Helena Kennedy forensically examines the pressing new evidence that women are still being discriminated against throughout the legal system, from the High Court to female prisons.

Why I'm no longer talking to White people about Race by Reni Eddo-Lodge

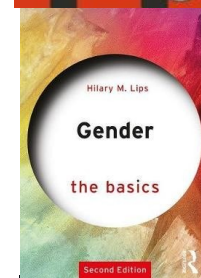

Reni Eddo-Lodge writes about her frustration with the way that discussions of race and racism in Britain were being led by those who weren't affected by it.

THE SUN DOES SHINE by Anthony Ray Hinton

Anthony Ray Hinton was poor and black when he was convicted of two murders he hadn't committed. For the next three decades he was trapped in solitary confinement in a tiny cell on death row.

Gender the basics by Hilary Lips
